Silicone Male External Catheter

InView™ Silicone Male External Catheter

InView silicone male external catheters are self-adhesive sheaths that divert urine for male's with urinary incontinence. They are part of a complete bladder management system and can be used with leg and night drainage bags as well as with accessories such as tubing and straps.

Confidence

Trust InView silicone male external catheters to:

- Be transparent – provides an easy way to help monitor skin health while the MEC is in place
- Stay in place – the skin friendly adhesive helps maximize wear time and helps prevent accidental detachment
- Meet specific needs – three styles and five sizes help ensure the proper fit:
 - 1 Standard – regular length and adhesive for daily wear
 - 2 Extra – 70% more adhesive than the standard external catheter for added security
 - 3 Special – shorter sheath length for a wider range of needs
- Fit most leg and night drainage bags – the tapered tip helps ensure a secure connection

Comfort

InView silicone male external catheters feature:

- Soft, breathable silicone – designed to be non-irritating and comfortable; can be crimped for a custom fit
- Skin friendly adhesive – balances secure fit with easy removal

Support

InView silicone male external catheters are supported by:

- Instructional videos
- Care tips
- Sizing guides
